1. First, open Kurzweil and Dragon. In Kurzweil, Click the Window Menu and choose Tile Vertically…If your screen view does not change, hover your mouse over the right side of the screen, then left click and drag the screen to the left to make it smaller (make sure you see the two-sided arrow before clicking).

2. If the text is now too small to read, click the arrow to the right of the Page Zoom menu and choose a different view.
3. In Dragon, click the Tools Menu and choose Dragon Pad.

4. When the Dragon Pad window appears, move it into place to the right of the Kurzweil window. Adjust the left side of the Dragon window to your desired width.

5. If Dragon Pad does not appear or disappears, click the Dragon button on your taskbar and choose DragonPad document.
